LITTLE BIT

on most anything

As a local, weekly newspaper, we generally try to avoid getting involved editorially in "in a wider war," as President Nixon would have us believe, for the big time pundits and Vice President Agnew have already searched and destroyed all the rhetoric. (Come to think of it, you could make a pretty strong case for making rhetoric the real enemy in Southeast Asia.) Anyway, this latest weekend scenario just comes across so heavy to us that we can't help be aghast, worried, depressed and all that. Seriously, we are concerned, as every American should be. And as such, we thought we might stretch the point a little this week and make an attempt at contrasting President Nixon's "war" and Mayor Lou Haddad's "war".

The Congress of the United States has no reason at all for being surprised that the President ignored its counsel in "attacking" the sanctuaries of the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in Cambodia. He has watched a steady erosion of Congressional support for his Vietnamese war policy for some time. He knew he couldn't win sufficient support, especially if it had to be won in public view. That, too, would have destroyed the element of surprise, if there was one, and the lack of resistance our troops have encountered may tell there wasn't any.

Contrast this with Mayor Haddad's new "Congress." We read it to be pretty much the same situation.

Bearing this in mind, let's return to Nixon's plan of attack. Instead of allowing his intentions to be debated publicly, he slipped across the street from the White House to his other office and got together with his military advisers. They convinced him, if he wasn't already, and bang, there went Cambodia.

Back to the mayor. This comparison is going to be greeted with some howls, but we tend to think that Haddad, knowing he confronts a unanimously hostil council of Steve Ross, Oliver Murray, Pearl Carey and Jerry McGrath, has search out his own "military advisers." And if we may be so bold, we believe they are concentrated in the Seaside Redevelopment Agency.

What kind of "attack" are they going to mount? Well, right now, it looks mostly like some little raiding parties with no real hope of bringing the enemy to the negotiating table.

There was a hint of battle strategy last Tuesday night at the regular monthly meeting of the agency.

The subject was several handsfull of 50-foot lots in the Hannon and Del Monte Heights Redevelopment Project. A local builder, Bill Lewellen, had offered to buy 50 if he could build some three-bedroom homes on them, among other things. Well, that didn't sit at all well with agency members Joe Cota and Chet Van Orman. They led the nixing of that possibility, but did say they might allow some two-bedroom construction.

Well anyway, in the course of the discussion, someone suggested that the new council might just permit three-bedroom homes as a part of revising the zoning ordinance. That brought a determined rejoinder from Van Orman:

"The agency will still have the right to turn them down."

We had been wondering how Haddad was going to battle his "Congress." There it was in Van Orman's quote. The mayor will use his "advisers" and their control of the UR agency -- with its domination over the city's destiny -- to checkmate actions by the city council.

The contrasting should end there, save the fact that the reaction to both President Nixon and Mayor Haddad could be drastic. That would be regrettable.

Presumably, the city council could disband the UR agency and assume the job itself. Presumably, the Congress could take away the funds to fight the war.

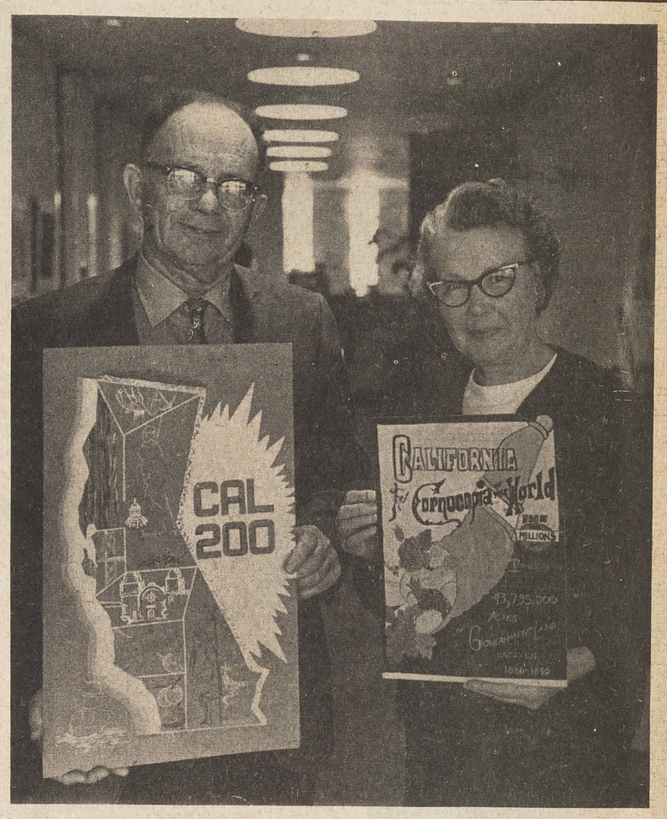

We quote from Arlen J. Large of the Wall Street Journal:

> Even the fiercest opponents of the war doubt that Congress would ever vote a sudden, direct cutoff of combat funds. "That's an ultimate sanction which may or may not be capable of being used," says Sen William Fulbright of Arkansas. Elected politicians, he says, tend to shrink from the accusation that they're cutting off support of troops in the field. An attempted legislative veto of so important a national effort as a war would be symbolic of a near-collapse of the Government. "You've just got to assume," syas Sen. Fulbright, "that each branch is going to behave responsible."

We hate to say it, but maybe we opponents of President Nixon's action have to restrict our reactions to criticism, hoping fervently that when his plan fails he will admit it and return to a more sane -- faster -- disengagement from the war.

It may not be that easy for the new city council.

OMB posters

WINNERS of the Bicentennial Art Poster Contest were named last week at Seaside City Hall. The county-wide contest for high school and junior high students was judged by Leon Amyx, art professor at Harnell College, who holds the first place winner in the senior division, by Phil Plouchart of Alisal High in Salinas, and by Helen Dooley, retired art professor at the University of the Pacific, who holds the winner of the junior division, by Grace Moy of Fitch Junior High on Fort Ord. Prizes will be awarded Monday, May 11, at a meeting of the Seaside Art Commission at city hall at 7:30 p.m., according to C.Y. Lee, chairman of the Seaside Bicentennial Committee and head of the art commission.

SECOND place in the senior division went to Gale Foss of Seaside High School for this poster. David Aguero, also of Seaside High, won an honorable mention.

Camp deadline

Applications should be turned in this week for Camp Amigos, the summer day camp in Carmel Valley that is open to children from throughout the Monterey Peninsula.

The camp will open its third season on July 20 on the grounds of the All Saints' Episcopal Day School in Carmel Valley. Three one-week sessions will be held in the Valley, from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Free bus transportation to and from camp will be available for children from Monterey and Seaside.

The camp is open to children aged 7 to 11 1/2, who will be in the second to sixth grades in September. A special overnight camp at Big Sur will be held Aug. 10-14 for children who will be in the fifth or sixth grades.

Applications may still be obtained from schools, the Monterey County Welfare Department or by contacting Mrs. Pearl Carey, 394-3808.

Camp Amigos offers a full program, including swimming, crafts, games, cookouts, and trips to the beach and other points of interest.

Makes dean's list

Dwight D. Edman, 1178 Shelter, St., Seaside, is among 6,800 Indiana University Bloomington campus undergraduate students to be singled out for special scholastic recognition at the University's annual Founders Day ceremonies today by being named to the Deans' Lists.

The Deans' List is made by posting a grade average of 3.3 or better out of a possible 4 during the designated period.

Jolly Jack

A PERFORMANCE of the classic children's story, Jack and the Beanstalk will be presented by the Lesselli Marrionettes Sunday, May 10, at 1 and again at 3 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College Theater. Less and Ellie Heath, the professional puppeteers who manipulate the strings, will be making a teturn appearance, having staged The Brave Little Tailor in 1969. Tickets for the show at $1 for adults and 50 cents for children are available afternoons at MPC's community services office on campus. They will also be sold at the door.

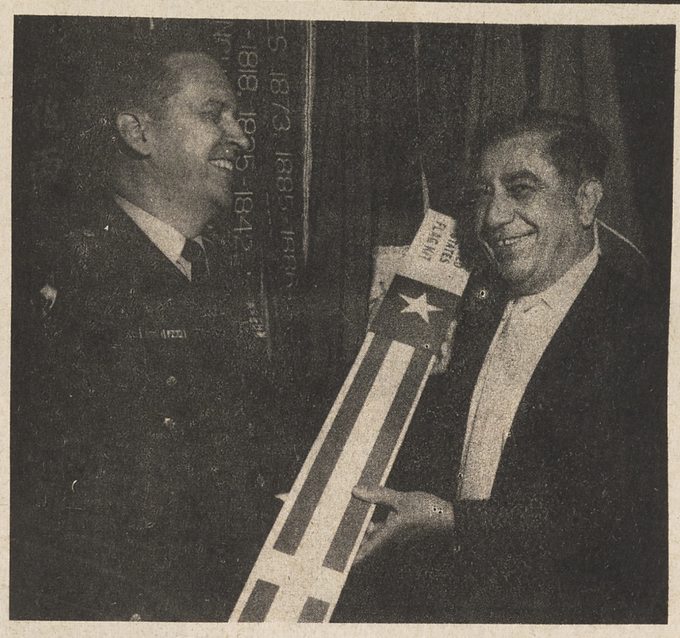

Council swearing-in Thursday

Seaside's two new city council members will be sworn in Thursday night following a canvass of a recount held last week. The canvass will begin at the regular council time, 8 p.m., at city hall.

Taking their seats for the first time since the April 14 city election will be Jerry McGrath, the front runner on the council race, and Mrs. Pearl Carey.

Unseated were Emil Schmidt and Bud Houser, who called for the recount when he fell only 37 votes short of Mrs. Carey after the original count. The recount brought Houser seven votes closer to Mrs. Carey, leaving the final margin at 30 votes.

Also to be validated will be the results of the vote on Proposition M, the measure on whether the city should trade old city hall for the Pit. But any council action on that matter will be forestalled until after May 8, when the city has been ordered to appear and show cause why the exchange should be made. A temporary restraining order was granted last week to halt any action until the recount was completed. The final tally on the proposition showed voters favoring it 1478-1383, a 95-vote difference, 11 more than the original count.

New citizen

GEORGE JWAIDEH, an Arabic instructor at the Defense Language Institute who lives in Seaside, receives an American flag and congratulations from Col. Kibbey M. Horne, commandant of DLI, upon becoming a U.S. citizen. Jwaideh earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Baghdad and did graduate work at Montana State University after coming to this country in 1956. He is past president of the Charter PTA at Manzanita School in Seaside. He and his wife Marilyn have two sons Faris and Juhan, 8 and 6, and a daughter Jenan, 5.

Youth day rescheduled

Youth in Government Day, the annual affair in which Seaside High students learn about city government and run their own mock city council session, has been postponed until May 21.

The event had been scheduled for May 7, but a student conflict promped Seaside High teachers to ask for the extension.

Youth in Government Day came in for considerable discussion last month when May Lou Haddad objected to the students' handling of their learning experience in years past.

The student forum has usually preceded the regular council session, and frequently students have run overtime in a broad discussion of political issues, not necessarily directly applicable to Seaside government.

Councilmen had discussed conducting their regular business before the students held their mock session on the same issues.

New general

Labor scholarship

Deborah Lynn Feighery, daughter of Don and Mrs. Feighery of Fort Ord is the Monterey Peninsula winner of a California Labor Federation scholarship of $250. she will also be competing for one of the 24 $500 scholarships that are awarded by the stte labor federation. These awards are presented each year by the AFL-CIO to assist outstanding students in obtaining a higher education and to promote a better understander of the American labor movement.

Post office closes Saturdays

Saurday window service at the Seaside Post Office will be discontinued as of May 23, 1970, according to Earle Flaws, Postmaster.

A review showed most Saturday transactions are stamp sales and inquiries. A vending machine for stamps will remain in the lobby.

Distribution of mail to Post Office Boxes and regular Saturday delivery service will not be affected the postmaster said.

A bell will be installed in the lobby to provide for patrons calling for "left notice articles" which require no money transactions. This service for "will call" mail will be available Saturdays between the hours of 9 a.m. and 12 noon.

Postmaster Flaws said the discontinuance of Saturday window service is a local action designed to save the taxpayers money by eliminating postal service which is not required by the public on a usage basis.

Services directory available

A new directory listing the Social, Welfare and Health Agencies in Monterey County as well as certain state and private agencies outside the county was distributed to agency representatives of the Inter Agency Council of the Monterey Peninsula recently. Copies are available to all interested groups or individuals and may be obtained at any of the following places: Monterey Peninsula Community Chest, 807 Cass St., Monterey; American Red Cross, Olympia Plaza, Seaside; American Red Cross, Carmel.

The directory lists 163 voluntary and tax supported agencies, giving addresses, phone numbers, office hours, person to contact, and a brief description of the functions and services, eligibility requirements, area served, and fees, if any, charged for service.

As the funds remaining are not enough to cover the entire cost of the 1970 issue, the Inter Agency Council is asking each agency or individual taking a directory to contribute $1 or $1.25 if asking for the directory by mail. "The Inter Agency does not want or espect to make money on the directory," according to Gil Funston, Executive Director, Community Chest, Monterey.

"Shakespeare; Soul of an Age" and "The Mystery of Stonehenge," documentary films in color, will be screened Saturady at 8 and 9:45 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall as the last regular offering in MPC's "Window on the World" series.

Individual tickes, priced at $1. are available for the second showing only.

An extra offering of the "Window" series has been announced by the college's community services office for Friday, May 22, 8 p.m. in Lecture-Forum 103. This program will feature "Volcano Surtsey," a spectacular film on the birth of a volcano which was to have been shown March 13 but was unobtainable on that date. Also shown that evening will be three other documentaries: "World is born," Eruption of Kilauea" and "River." Holders of series tickets will be admitted free of charge. Others may purchase $1 tickets at the door.

Charlson group

A committee for the support of Ray Charlson in his bid for Monterey County Superintendent of Schools, was formed recently in Seaside headed by Mrs. Dolores Solberg and Gerald McGrath. The main objective is to get Dr. Charlson aequainted with the people of Seaside through public meetings and a telephone campaign.

Others on the committee are John Miller, Curtis Ramsey, Mmes. Janna Ottman, Vivian Holly and Mary Owens Phillips.

Volunteers are greatly needed. If anyone wishes to help in any way, please contact Mrs. Solberg at 394-4989.

Filipino fiesta

FIVE Filipino beauties show the native costumes they will be wearing Saturday, May 23, when Fiesta Filipina is scheduled at Portuguese Hall in Monterey. No host cocktails will be served at 6 p.m. and a Filipino dinner from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. with entertainment and dancing. From left are Mrs. Sylbester Soriano, co-chairman; Mrs. Jessie Lorenzo Mrs. Arsenio Turguezo, chairman; Mrs. Ted Malate; and Mrs. Joe Busue. Receipts from the Fiesta will help fund Philippine Week, Jun3 21 through 27, a part of the Bicentennial Parade of Nations program.

MEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. Barbara A. Gregory, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Gregory, live at 1820 Luxton, Seaside, was recently promoted pay grade E-2 upon completion of basic training at the Women's Army Corps Center Ft. McClellan, Ala.

The promotion was awarded two months earlier than is customary under the Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees. The promotion was based on her military bearing, leadership potential and scores attained during the training.

Sgt. Leonardo C. Olis, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Atilano F. Olis, 1780 Highland St., Seaside, completed a tacticla microwave systems repairman course at the Army Signal School, Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

Sgt. Olis entered the Army in April 1966, received basic training at Ft. Ord, and was last stationed in Vietnam. He holds the Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal and the Purple Heart.

MPC summer classes

Mail registration for some 75 courses to be offered during Monterey Peninsula College's summer session began Monday and will continue through the postmark deadline of June 5.

Brochures listing courses and containing application blanks are available at the MPC administration building on request.

Most courses will be offered for six weeks - June 22 to July 31 - though a few will run for eight weeks to Aug. 14. The majority of classes will be conducted daytimes, though a few - including some classes in aviation, business machines, theater workshop and play production, electronics, history and music - will meet evenings.

After June 5, on-campus registration will not be conducted until June 17-19.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I didn't think I had a refund coming so I waited until almost April 15 before I worked out my tax return. How long will it take for me to get my refund?

A) If there are no mistakes on your return to delay processing, you should have your refund in June, about six weeks after you filed. It might take a bit longer, however, due to the large volume of returns filed in April.

Q) What should I do about a delayed refund?

A) If you have not heard anything about your refund and it has been 10 weeks since you mailed in your return, then you should call your local IRS office. You should wait 10 weeks before calling as this period of time is generally sufficient for the refund to be issued or a letter sent to the taxpayer explaining why it is delayed. To call before 10 weeks can delay the processing of your return.

When inquiring about a missing or delayed refund, give your name, current address, Social Security number and the date the return was filed.

Q) How do I get a Social Security number? I need one for a summer job.

A) Your local Social Security office has Form SS-5 you can use to apply for a Social Security number. Send the completed form to the Social Security Administration and they will assign you a number.

Q) What do I do with the Forms I had left over after I sent in my estimated tax declaration?

A) Keep them for your remaining quarterly estimated tax payments. The worksheet will help you determine the amount of your payments and make any adjustments that are necessary. The pre-addressed vouchers and envelopes should be used to make your payments.

Q) I'm buying a house this summer. What records should I keep?

A) Your records should show the purchase price of the house and any improvements you make to it that would affect your cost basis. This information will be necessary to determine whether you have any gain to report when it comes time to sell.

Each year you should keep a record of the property taxes and interest paid on mortgage loans. These can be deducted on your income tax return if you itemize.

More information can be found in Publication 530, Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners. Send a post card to your IRS district office for a free copy.

HOW TO WARM UP A cold pilot.

Even the most faithful pilot light can go out. So check your pilot first if one of your gas appliances or furnace isn't operating.

Most gas ranges have more than one pilot. If you're not sure where they're located, consult your owner's manual. (If you need help, call us.) Before relighting a pilot, be sure all burners are turned off. Allow a few minutes for the air to clear, then touch a lighted match to the pilot opening. The pilot should light with a small, blue flame, and the burner should light when you turn it on. If the burner fails to light, call us. We'll send a man out to check it.

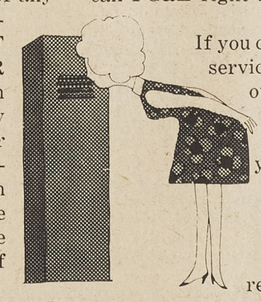

Modern gas water heaters and dryers shut off completely if the pilot goes out. And most models bear manufacturer instructions for relighting. If you can't get the appliance operating, call us or the installer.

If the pilot of any gas heater or furnace goes out, TURN OFF THE MAIN BURNER VALVE FIRST. Allow ten or fifteen minutes for any accumulation of gas to clear before relighting pilot (following the instructions on the equipment). With the pilot relighted, the furnace or heater should operate. If it won't, call us.

PILOTS NEEDN'T GO ON VACATION. Some folks prefer to shut off furnaces and water heaters during the summer or vacations. However, it's more convenient to turn off the main burner, but not the pilot. When the pilot is lighted, your furnace is ready to work on a cold day. Most hot water heaters can be turned to "PILOT" when not in use. This keeps the pilot lighted and prevents the main burner from heating water.

WARNING: Never look for a gas leak with a lighted match or candle. If you suspect a gas leak, call PG&E right away and we'll check it.

If you call for a PG&E service man to check out a gas leak or an appliance, have him show you where your pilots are, and how to relight them. If an appliance needs repairs or parts, an appliance man, plumber, or furnace man should be called.

P.S. The average daily cost of gas and electricity to run a typical household year 'round is less than a couple of packs of cigarettes.

CONSUMER POWER

By YVONNE EARNST

How nice the advertisers of America have been to me this week - I've received $2 from Birdseye Vegetables, 75¢ from Green Giant, 50¢ from Campbell's Soups, 50¢ from Cool Whip, 50¢ from Ivory Liquid, 25¢ from Libby's Vienna Sausages, 60¢ from Sara Lee Cakes, 5-0¢ from Yuban Coffee, 30¢ from Van Camp's Beans, 50¢ from Velveeta, $1 from LaChoy Bi-Pack, 50¢ from Jell-O, and $2 in 25¢ refunds from various companies. That's a very good week. Since I seem to mail out refund requests in large groups, the money often comes in the same way.

Surely, you use many of those same products in your home, too. This series of columns on refunding began in late January, and many readers have joined us somewhere in the middle. Back issues are available at the newspaper office for those who missed them. However, we have had so many requests to review the refund publications once again that we are going to do that now.

Every consumer new to refunding should order one copy of a non-subscription type publication which fills the need of newcomers to refunding to learn about the huge backlog of refund offers that have been announced in the past that are still running.

You might well decide to send for this publication about twice a year just to make sure you haven't missed anything, but it is too expensive to buy it monthly, and the information is cumulative and repetitive.

This publication so valuable to new refunders in Money Tree, Box 232 RE, Manchester, Mo. 63011. Send for offers near the front of each section as they are the oldest offers. Money Tree costs $1 by third class mail, $1.18 by first class mail. A revised edition is printed near the middle of each month' ask for the latest one.

The publications, SilverGrams and JayBees, which advertise in Money Tree are not recommended.

After studying the wide field of subscription-type refunders' publications, and comparing them over a period of time, I chose these three over many others. This is a personal recommendation, not an endorsement by this newspaper.

QuickSilver, 203 Main Street, Milford, N.Y. 13806 - a mimeographed bulletin sent out the first of the month -- oldest and most reliable of all - screens out companies with poor pay records - tests many offers -- $3.50 a year.

Companion publication, How to Turn Boxtops into Dollars, is unnecessary for readers of this column. Companion publication, Contest Buttetin, recently raised its subscription rate from $2 to $3 a year, but is still the "best buy" in the contest publication field at that. We will be covering the subject of sweepstakes and contsts in this column later this year.

Refund Reports, Dept. E. R.D. No. 1, Renlee Ave., Ellwood City, Pa. 161[illegible] - a neatly alphabetized, printed bulletin -- large, clear print-- sent out first of month -- runs form swapping service for subscribers -- $3.35 a year. Fun and Profit, No Expiration Date, and Golden Book of Refunding unnecessary for anyone who has read this series of columns.

However, you might wish to order a copy of Golden Book of Refunding for a friend or relative in another city who has not read these column. It will cover some of the same basic information. The address is Box 2620, Hannibal, Ohio, 43931, and the price is $2.

The third publication (the other two are better) has announced a coming price increase. Since it already costs $4 a year, I feel the editor is definitely overpricing her product. The only reason I recommend it at all, considering this, is that it is good for the person who wants to go into this "tooth and nail." FireFly runs ads to buy, sell and trade forms, coupons, trading stamps, labels, etc. - and is good for the person who likes to have many "pen-pals."

FireFly Reporter, Dept. MC, 116S. 4th St., Redwood Falls, Minn. 55283 -- sent out in the middle of the month - printed in newspaper tabloid form, - small print - runs form exchange for subscribers. Companion publications, Friendly Way, Busy Bee Circular and Dillies for a Dollar are not recommended.

Now, should you try to share a subscription with a friend? No, I don't think it is a good idea, as the other peson always seems to have the paper when you want it. However, one friend or neighbor could subscribe to one paper -- and you could subscribe to another. That way, you would both have all the basic information plus the advantage of comparing notes and editorial policies.

BOB WOOD REPORTS

A Weekly Column By The 34th District Assemblyman

It's possible you may have read in the San Francisco papers or your own daily papers, where I found myself battling for what I originally thought was a very minor inconsequential bill. As a member of the Assembly Agriculture committee I had been asked to carry the bill by several of the large milk companies and I was assured that as far as the representatives knew there was no opposition to the bill within the milk companies or otherwise. As statistics show 39 of the other states have a similar law. I accepted the bill under these circumstances and proceeded to move the bill through the complex legislative pattern required by the state if a bill is to become law. Low and behold, all of a sudden a minor bill became the major bill of the legislative calendar day through a set of unforeseen circumstances. The purpose of the bill was to allow manufacturers, under cirtain circumstances the right to add what they keep it from shrinking. Now, I never heard of ice cream shrinking unless it started to melt, but the experts say that when ice cream is produced under normal temperatures near sea level, such as, let's say, Los Angeles, and then this ice cream is subject to high elevations before it is delivered to the consumer in a warm area, such as Imperial Valley, it has the peculiar tendency to shrink without actually melting. Well, the Legislators swallowed this OK, but it seems microcrystalline cellulose originates from a wood derivative and the fact that my name happen to be Wood also, this caught the wary eye of the press and several of the Assemblymen. All of a sudden questions were thrown at me left and right. Some even bgan to wonder if this particular ingredient was harmful. I'm no chemist and I am sure my colleagues aren't either and although it passed the Assembly with 41 mixed Republican and Democratic approval, I felt it my responsibility yesterday to write a special delivery letter to Dr. Louis Saylor, Director of Department of Public Health and ask him for a complete report on this microcrystalline cellulose, as I would be the last person to ever ask the Legislature or the public to accept anything that was not approved 100 % harmless. I have sent a copy to each of my fellow Assemblymen and Senators for a man's reputation in this legislative business is based on the type of bills he sponsors and I can't afford to take chances with anything that isn't 100% on the level. If the report shows anything out of the ordinary or harmful in any sense or in anyway, then I will kill, or what we call stop the bill immediately. I will keep you readers posted when I receive the report back from the Department of Public Health.

I have had to make some tough decisions this last year, but the one I had to make last Sunday night when I left for Sacramento was one of the hardest to make. Our old family dog, who was a regular front seat passenger in my old pick-up all those farming and county supervisor years, is almost 14 years old. Until a few months ago when I arrived home each week she would greet me with an expression of loyal appreciation, something that only those of you who have a dog or own a dog could understand. However, lately she could barely make it out of her box to greet me on my return home. During that last week she had to be carried from the garage to the backyard in the mornings and back again at night into the garage. Last Sunday night I said good-byb for the last time and left word to have her painlessly put to sleep. I'm sure God must have a special place for faithful pets, at least I am sure that the many of us who have known the companionship of a dog or a cat hope there is such a place. Enug for now.....

REAR ADMIRAL Robert W. McNitt, superintendent of the Naval Postgraduate School, is for polo -- he is also for the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula. So, he was happy to be on hand to receive the first tickets for the May 10 North South Annual Polo Match from Mrs. George McMahan, a committee member for the Lyceum, which will benefit from the game.

Goodwill week

Observance of national Goodwill Week in Monterey, Santa Cruz, and San Luis Obispo Counties from May 3-9 is part of a nation-wide event sponsored by Goodwill Industries in 140 cities in the United States and in 22 foreign countries in the world. The theme for 1970 is - "Goodwill Builds People for jobs."

Forty of the churches in the area, representing nearly every denomination, will be joining in the observance by distributing Goodwill Church Bulletin inserts and collection bags to their congregations.

Goodwill was founded after the turn of the century in the city of Boston by the Rev. Edgar Helms. He originated the idea of using handicapped persons to repair donated furniture, chothing and other household items to sell to those in need at a reduced price. This helped both the handicapped and the poor in his congregation.

Goodwill Industries has now grown to include a whole range of rehabilitation services including testing, counseling, training, employing and placing people with all varieties of mental and physical handicaps.

Christian Science

Differences between spiritual and material interpretations of creation in the Bible are brought out in the Lesson-Sermon on "Adam and Fallen Man" to be read in all Christian Sciences churches this Sunday.

The public is welcome to attend services starting at 11 a.m. at Christian Science churches on the Monterey Peninsula.

"Facing Up To Indifference" is the subject of next Sunday's program in the Christian Science radio series "The Bible Speaks to You." It may be heard at 7:45 a.m. Sunday over Radio Station KRML, 1410 kc.

LETTER

Editor,

The recently launched Chinese satellite should not have been a surprise, Actually, the Chinese program is right on a five-year-old estimated schedule, and probably makes for much happiness, not only in Peking, but in Washington, D.C., among officials and Congressman who have been desperately and comically trying to find some decent looking reason for American taxpayers to buy a useless ABM system.

The big result of the alunch will be a noticeable change in Russia's attitude toward our presence in Asia. Up until now nothing could rightly make a good Russian happier than to watch us destroying ourselves as a world power with our incredibly stupid Asian involvement.

Now, however, due to a combination of problems and circumstances, we are like a boxer who is out on his feet just waiting to be touched lightly. We are ripe for a Russian peace offensive to get us out of Asia and into a depression that will mean an end to NATO and other police duties throughout most of the world.

It would be unthinkable for the Russians to permit the Chinese to develop their nuclear arms to the point they could wipe out Russia with a surprise attack. They will simply and clearly have no choice but to use nuclear weapons to destroy China within the next one or two years, and it will be very important to them to have at least the bulk of the American forces out of Asia at that time.

The satellite, as a show of force while bidding desperately for time, was a mistake for the Chinese, but it is too late now. Russia has the grim choice of waiting to be possible destroyed completely, or else destroying the Chinese first.

Hopefully, somebody in Washington will desplay enough common sense to keep America out of it.

Flower show

Green thumbers from throughout Monterey and So. San Benito Counties will be vieing for cash awards at the Salinas Valley Fair Flower Show scheduled to begin on May 14th at the fairgrounds in King City.

According to Fair Director Maynard Frudden, chairman of the floriculture department, a total of $889.50 is being offered in cash premiums for almost everything ranging from Poppies to Orchids.

Frudden reminds all potential exhibitors that there is no entry fee and all a person has to do is drop a note to the fair office, P.O. Box 818, King City, 93930 and ask for a Flower Show Booklet and entry form. Show dates are May 14 through 17 in King City.

A Warning for people who carry credit cards.

In a recent issue of the Los Angeles Times the lead story, "Spiraling Thefts Lead to New Credit Card Protection Service," warned readers that credit card theft is soaring. That thousands of Americans who never thought it could happen to them will lose a whopping $50 million this year. And that it can happen to you.

Fact is you can lose a credit card by carelessness or theft and find yourself with bills for thousands of dollars in a matter of days!

That's why we started Protect-a-Card. The Credit Card Protection Service that protects you from charges illegally made on your credit cards by sending stop-payment notice to all your card issuers in minutes. And offers you first dollar insurance protection with a $1000 no-deductible policy covering all your credit cards.

Here's how it works: We record your cards and card numbers at our Data Center. Then if they're lost or stolen you just call us collect. 24 hours a day. From anywhere in the continental U.S. (From overseas you simply cable.)

We'll immediately wire stop-payment notice to all your card companies. At no charge to you. Then we'll send you copies of those wires. So you have time-dated proof of the notification that ends your liability.

Since you are liable for all charges made with your cards until you give proper (written) notification to the card issuing company, the most important thing to do when your cards are missing is get notification to each card issuer fast. Protect-a-Card does this for you electronically. Infinitely faster than you could do it yourself. And with none of the worries and headaches.

End credit card worries today. Mail the coupon with a $9 check (protects all your cards for a full year) and a list of your credit cards and card numbers. We'll rush you a thief-warning membership card and a key-ring tag inscribed with our 24-hour emergency phone number. (Like those in the picture.) Also your $1000 no-deductible insurance policy (protects you from the very first dollar—no $25, $50 or $100 deductible).

Fill in the coupon today. And let the thieves do the worrying for a change.

Protect-a-Card, Inc.

Lyceum boost

REAR ADMIRAL Robert W. McNitt, superintendent of the Naval Postgraduate School, is for polo -- he is also for the Lyceum of the Monterey Peninsula. So, he was happy to be on hand to receive the first tickets for the May 10 North South Annual Polo Match from Mrs. George McMahan, a committee member for the Lyceum, which will benefit from the game.

First "Recruits" Graduating This Spring

BERKELEY — Six years ago, a group of professors at UC–Berkeley decided to seek out promising ghetto children, work with them, and provide enough money to help put them through college.

The first young people recruited under this program are graduating from Berkeley this spring in what has turned out to be an inspiring program, imitated nationally.

At the time it was begun, the professors had had to depend almost entirely on their own donations—and on faith. They believed that there were many potentially good students from poor and minority families, especially in blighted urban areas, who never had cause to hope, and therefore never tried, to qualify for college.

Pride

Looking back, the professors have some cause for pride. Of the first 120 young people they had "enrolled," 91 now are studying on some campus. Of these 91, very few would have gone on toward higher education without benefit of what is called the Special Opportunity Scholarship Program (SOS).

Since it was begun in 1964, SOS has received support from UC Regents' funds and the Federal Upward Bound program. Upward Bound has also been inspired by SOS to begin similar programs on other campuses.

Two of the professors who helped start the program remain in charge. They are Owen Chamberlain, a Nobel laureate in physics, and Mark R. Rosenzweig, an eminent psychologist. They were happy to report that 56 of the SOS students now are studying at UC–Berkeley, and 35 at other four-year institutions.

New SOS students now are being recruited from among students at several high schools, ages 14 and up. During the high school year, coordinators appointed by the faculty committee meet weekly with the students, and conduct Saturday morning classes.

Each of the SOS students attends a seven week session on the Berkeley campus for four successive summers while attending high school, all the while meeting with professors and getting familiar with campus life. It had been thought, and apparently proven, that such contact with a campus would have an upward effect on ambition.

Four class groups are conducted, totaling 160 students in all. SOS provides compensation to the students, to make up for lost summer earnings which their families and their own expenses require.

Guidance

SOS has been guided by a committee from the Academic Senate, the professors' official campus organization. During the current year, 134 of the students are from high schools in Oakland, Emeryville, Berkeley, Richmond and Pittsburg. Forty-five new students will join the program in the summer.

The faculty committee has made a public appeal for funds, needed to "match" contributions from the Regents. Upward Bound contributions have been reduced since 1968–69.

The average cost per student at UC is about $2,000 per year, of which SOS provides more than half.

A new director of the SOS program has just been appointed: Lynn R. Baranco, a native of Oakland and holder of an MA in public administration from Berkeley. He previously was a vocational counselor, probation officer and teacher for Alameda County.

LAW IN ACTION

SEAL OF APPROVAL

Rita often read the ads about styles in magazines. One day she saw one that showed shoes made of a new material and bearing the magazine's "Guaranty Seal."

She bought a pair that very day.

The shoes were slippery, especially on vinyl floors. Unaware of this, Rita slipped, fell, and hurt herself the first day she wore her new shoes.

Rita sued the endorsing magazine, claiming it had not really tested them for safety. The magazine replied that, if anybody, the shoe manufacturer and seller were liable, not the magazine.

But the court found the magazine liable for damages since it had been paid to endorse the shoes, and knew that its endorsement would make people want to buy them. Since Rita relied on the magazine and bought the slippery shoes, the endorsing company had to share the liability and pay for her damages.

A publisher who merely accepts and prints ads without endorsement is not, as a rule, liable. Then the reader himself must judge such ads.

But the company that lends its good name to advertising has to make good its endorsement.

Such an endorser is like a person who co-signs or guarantees a note. Even though he gains nothing, the co-signer is liable to the lender as well as to others who rely on his signature.

In another case a notary public drafted a will which was invalid because two witnesses had not properly attested to it. A person who would otherwise have been a beneficiary did not know about the will until after the testator had died. In view of what he had lost he sued the notary. The notary claimed that he had no duty to anybody except the now deceased testator.

But the court said the notary had to pay, since he could have foreseen that legitimate heirs would lose out if he failed in his duty to the testator. Besides, he had no business writing a will unless he was licensed to practice law.

Cross-Country

Two Steam Cars Racing for UCSD

SAN DIEGO—Two steam-powered automobiles have been entered by UCSD in a cross-country competition from Massachusetts to California next August.

One of the cars, an American Motors Javelin, will be powered by a steam engine designed and constructed by UCSD students and faculty. The other, a Ford Cortina converted to steam, was entered jointly by UCSD and Steam Power Systems, Inc., a San Diego firm which is building the power plant for the car.

The two vehicles will vie with other entries from colleges and universities throughout the nation in the 1970 Cross Country Urban Car Competition, sponsored by California Institute of Technology and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Contestants will leave Cambridge, Mass. on August 24 for Pasadena over a route still to be announced. All competing vehicles will be driven by college or university students. The 3,000-mile journey is expected to take about six days.

An earlier electric-car competition was conducted by Cal Tech and M.I.T. in 1968. This year's contest has been opened to all vehicles equipped with non-conventional power plants designed to reduce the air pollution created by conventional gasoline engines.

Each entry will be judged in three categories: performance characteristics, cross-country time, and level of pollution. Contestants will report to Cambridge on August 19 for performance trials, leaving Massachusetts five days later for California.

NPS dean

DR. MILTON U. CLAUSER, presently on the faculty of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will succeed Dr. Robert F. Rinehart as Academic Dean of the Naval Postgraduate School. The appointment, approved by the Secretary of the Navy, will become effective September 1.

Dr. Clauser, who has been a professor of aeronautics and astronautics at MIT since 1967, is a graduate of the California Insititute of Technology, where he received the B.S. degree in theoretical physics in 1934, the M.S. in aeronautical engineering in 1935, and the Ph.D. in 1937.

SENTINEL Photographer John Perkins accepts his certificate of membership in the new AD-vertising Club of the Peninsula. Making the presentation is the first president of the club, Ted Krough, who was installed recently.

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF MONTEREY
CASE NUMBER MDR 956
SUMMONS (MARRIAGE)
In re the marriage of Petitioner: MYRA J. WHITELEY
and
Respondent: CHARLEY E. WHITELEY

To the Respondent:

The petitioner has filed a petition concerning your marriage. You may file a written response within thirty days of the date that this summons is served on you. If you fail to file a written response within such time, your default may be entered and the court may enter a judgment containing injunctive or other orders concerning division of property, spousal support, child custody, child support, attorneys' fees, costs, and such other relief as may be granted by the court.

If you wish to see a lawyer for advice in this matter, you should do so promptly so that your written response, if any, may be filed on time.
